

READY Education

EdgePro aims to provide our members with the solutions and tools they need to achieve operational efficiency while providing the highest levels of support and services throughout the student lifecycle. Our solutions aim to help institutions provide 24/7 service, improve enrollment yields, increase student retention rates, and grow student engagement.

Ready Education (formerly OOHLALA Mobile) is the preferred choice of over 350 higher ed institutions worldwide, offering custom mobile campus app solutions that enable colleges and universities to personalize the student experience and support engagement.

The Ready Education platform is designed to support student success by unifying campus resources and services – LMS, co-curriculars, athletics, clubs/orgs, events and many more – within a branded, integrated, college app. By adopting the Ready Education platform, students are given access to academic information, are able to communicate easily with peers and faculty, and can even receive real-time updates about events and campus activities. In turn, administrators are able to track student engagement, get immediate feedback, and send targeted content and communication to their students.

MANAGE THE ENTIRE ENGAGEMENT LIFECYCLE:

Create a Thriving Community:

Interactive Campus Feeds + Personalized Content

Allow students to make friends and stay connected with their campus, along with the resources and services that matter most.

Understand Campus Engagement

Event and Service Assessment

Get real-time student feedback and engagement data with no micro-surveys delivered to students right in the app.

Engage as One Institutional Voice:

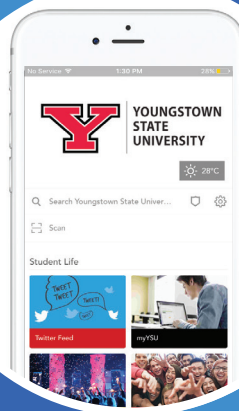

Customized Launch Plan

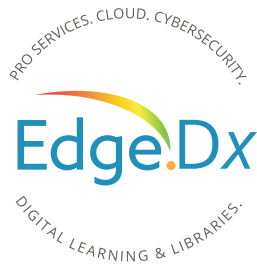

Leverage the unique characteristic of your institution with a launch plan tailored to your campus, built by a dedicated customer success manager.

Measure ROI and Effectiveness:

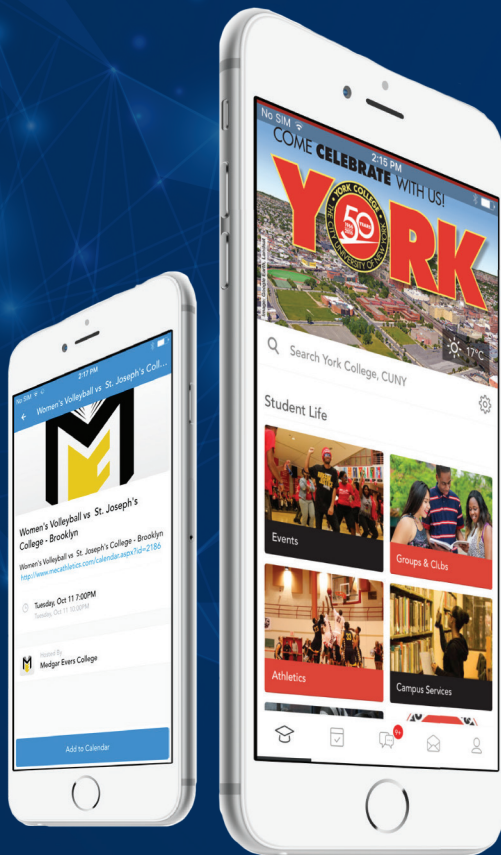

Dashboards + Efficacy Reports

Use real-time analytics to monitor engagement activity and review efficacy reports to understand larger trends and campus sentiment.

Ready Education is the fastest growing student engagement, retention and assessment platform for higher education, connecting students to the full potential of their campus community.

"This is the first initiative that an overwhelming number of students have adopted on our campus.
It's an extremely cost effective way of reaching out and engaging with them."
